

Carlos Alejandro Armenta Pico

Director of the Research Center for Philosophy and Management
Academic Director of the Focused Program “El Director como Persona”
Academic Director of the G-20 Colloquium
Professor at the Organizational Behavior Department

IPADE
BUSINESS SCHOOL
UNIVERSIDAD PANAMERICANA

Academic Degrees

- PhD in Philosophy, Pontificia Università della Santa Croce.
- BS in Chemical Engineering, Universidad Iberoamericana.

Professional Activities

- Project Research Director, “De Homine” (centered in Philosophical Anthropology).
- Director of the publishing program associated to the “De Homine” project.
- Consultant in issues regarding human and professional development.
- Project engineer, Department of Simulation Process, Instituto Mexicano del Petróleo (IMP).
- Member of the focused group responsible of the development of “Simulador General de Procesos” (SIMPROC), Instituto Mexicano del Petróleo.
- Development of software engineering (CAD) for efficient generation of application projects.

Publications:

- El amor humano. Reflexiones sobre el pensamiento de Karol Wojtyla. Universidad Panamericana y Publicaciones Cruz O., S.A. México, 1999.
- Hablar al hombre del hombre. México, LID, 2017.
- Documents for the program “El director como persona. Un alto en el camino” (Practical cases, technical notes, teaching notes, and essays).

Areas of Interest

- Philosophical anthropology
- Human and professional development
- Entrepreneurial ethics